CORE competencies

What are Core Competencies?

Core Competencies are sets of intellectual, personal, social, and emotional proficiencies that are important for success in school and in life. Students from kindergarten to grade 12 are expected to complete reflections and self-assessments to understand who they are as learners, communicators, and thinkers as well as how caring, self-regulating, self-determined, resilient, and personally and socially responsible they are as people. Students are regularly invited to consider these attributes and competencies for reflection about their personal strengths and areas for growth.

When and how do students at MacNeill High submit their Core Competency self-assessments? In 2024 - 2025 students in grades 8 to 12 will complete three reflections about Core Competencies. Core Competency templates are available on MS Teams. Students are invited to use the templates to write their reflections, or they can upload a format of their choice for their Core Competency self-assessment.
